Presentation

This estate has been in the family for 3 generations now but was formerly part of the chateau Malromé, where Henri de Toulouse Lautrec used to live.

Tasting note

Intense and fresh, this lovely wine has a plum colour and a nose boasting aromas of kirsch, black-fruit jelly and notes of rose. Rounded and fleshy on the palate, with a long-lasting, fresh finish in which the flavours of wild berries and liquorice stand out. A rich wine which should be served with game or duck confit.
