Estate Presentation: This estate has been in the family for 3 generations now but was formerly part of the Chateau Malromé, where Henri de Toulouse Lautrec used to live.

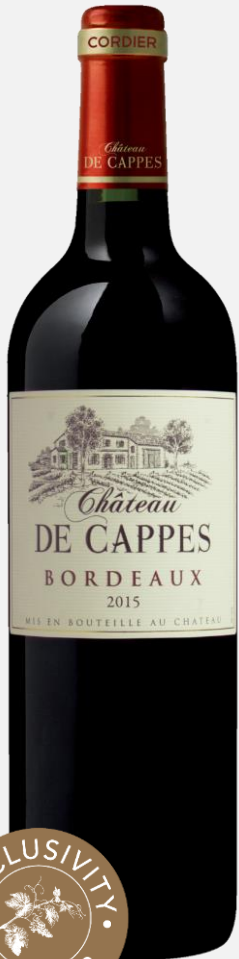

Tasting Notes: Intense and fresh, this lovely wine has a plum color and a nose boasting aromas of kirsch, black-fruit jelly and notes of roses. Rounded and fleshy on the palate, with a long-lasting, fresh finish in which the flavors of wild berries and licorice stand out. A rich wine which should be served with game of duck confit.
